

WATER CONSERVATION PROGRAM IMPACTS

UF/IFAS Extension recognizes landscape irrigation as an area of focus for Initiative #2: Enhancing and Protecting Water Quality, Quantity, and Supply, because of the opportunity to encourage substantial water conservation.

IN 2015, twenty-three Floridians indicated how they conserve water after attending UF/IFAS Extension programs:

52.2 THOUSAND which led to gallons of water saved

For more information on the Center for Landscape Conservation and Ecology, visit <http://gardeningsolutions.ifas.ufl.edu/clce/>

$241
A MONTH

This saved Floridians an average of on their utility bills,

$104
A MONTH

and saved Florida utilities in water delivery costs.